PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

The Scanmail 10K desk top electronic mail scanner scans up to 10,000 items per hour. It will automatically find suspect items of mail, while reliably ignoring office clutter such as paperclips and staples. It can detect bomb power sources or detonators and items commonly included in hate mail. Provides both audio and visual alarms. Its back up battery with automatic recharge supplies 3 hours of operating power. This easy to use mail scanner requires no calibration, set up, or operator training. The Scanmail 10K emits no radiation and will not damage camera film, magnetic tape, computer discs, CD s, or videos. Capable of screening bundles of mail and parcels up to 2.5 thick. It can be used in prisons as well for contraband detection.
